

VETS' PENSION BILLS DROPPED

Red Cross Drive Lags

With only a few more days left in the 1949 campaign for funds, the Navarro County American Red Cross Chapter has a disappointing deficit.

The general campaign has been going on since March 1, and the advance gift sector a week before that.

The results Thursday lined up about like this:

Quota	$13,300.00
Raised	8,597.56
Needed	4,702.44

Persons who have not contributed were urged by J. Floyd Smith, cashier of the First National Bank and general chairman, to send in their checks immediately.

They can be sent to either the bank or the executive office of the local chapter on East Collin Street.

Senate And House Must Get Accord On Rent Controls; Bill Is Passed

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—The house refused today to accept senate amendments to its bill continuing rent controls. The decision will send the measure to a senate-house conference committee to work out a compromise.

Rent controls will expire a week from today, unless a compromise can be reached and the bill put on President Truman's desk at that time.

Neither senate nor house bill makes rent controls as strong or continues them as long as President Truman asked.

But Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill described as a "pretty good job" the amended bill approved by the senate last night, 68 to 10. They didn't like a provision allowing "home rule" decontrol at any time. The house-approved measure also has a local option clause, although the senate and house decontrol systems differ in some respects.

The senate measure permits some rent increases up to 10 per cent. The house measure provides for no percentage rent hikes, but stipulates that, so far as practicable, the rent administrator must assure a reasonable return on reasonable value of rented property.

A 15 months continuation is provided by the house bill. Control for "12 to 15" months was voted by the senate. President Truman asked that the controls be strengthened and continued for 24 months beyond March 31.

The house appointed as its conferees to meet with the senate these members of its banking committee: Chairman Spence (D-Ky), Brown (D-Ga), Patman (D-Tex), Monroney (D-Okla), Wolcott (R-Mich), Gamble (R-NY), and Kunkel (R-Penna).

The senate-house conference group plans to get together tomorrow.

Twenty-three Republicans joined 45 Democrats in ramming the senate bill through. All the 10 votes against it were cast by Republicans.

Jester Hints At Approval Of Rent Control Change

By The Associated Press.

Governor Beauford Jester said today he isn't ready to comment on proposed "home rule" rent control, but he added that it is well known he generally favors home rule.

Jester said the governors of other states are key men in a bill approved by the U. S. senate and sent to the house. It would hand rent controls over to local governments, if the governors approve.

Jester said he has not had an opportunity to study the bill and would not want to comment directly on it without more information.

The first expression of enthusiasm for the bill in Texas came from Beauford Jester, governor-elect, or pro tem, said the bill is highly favored by the Beaumont city government as the only fair method of handling rent control. If the bill passes, the city council will make a survey and decide what local action is needed, he said.

At the opposite extreme was this comment by Mayor Harold Jones of Wichita Falls: "They're just an assinine, back-passing bunch of politicians. I hope the house kills the bill, but guess we've got the same kind of politicians there, too."

Mayor Jimmie Temple of Dallas said, "If the bill becomes law, I believe a special meeting of the city council to establish a 'home rule' would be warranted. It wouldn't be fair now to hazard a guess on how we would act as we've never discussed the matter."

In Waco, Mayor J. E. Hawkins said he thinks the bill is "a glaring inequity" in rent control in his city. But Hawkins said there always is danger that rent controls would get so involved in local politics that the best measures would not be taken. Waco probably would hold a special election to find out how its residents feel about the plan before removing the controls, he said.

Mild Cold Front Enters Texas And Clears Its Skies

By The Associated Press.

A mild cold front, moving into Texas from the west, cleared west Texas skies today. Cloudy conditions prevailed in other parts of the state.

The on temperature below 40 degrees was at Guadalupe Pass, in far west Texas, where 37 degrees were recorded.

Drizzling rain fell at Bryan, Victoria, Fort Worth and Dallas. Showers were expected in east and southeast Texas tonight.

Temperatures today included: Amarillo, 41; Brownsville, 73; Laredo, 73; El Paso, 47; Houston, 64; Corpus Christi, 60; San Antonio, 67; Beaumont, 65; Galveston, 65; Dallas, 60; Fort Worth, 62; Texarkana, 57; Abilene, 61; Big Spring, 61; Laredo, 73, and Lubbock, 57.

At Presidio in the Big Bend country, the mercury soared to 90 degrees yesterday.

Beaver Makes Trouble For Self

FREDERICKSON, N. B., March 24.—(AP)—The busy beaver apparently has been too busy in New Brunswick, causing flood damage to its dams.

On April 11-May 10 the government will allow trapping in the province by permit.

If they'd let well enough alone, the beavers would have continued to be protected by a year-round closed season.

Dulles Warns As To Need Of Care In Atlantic Pact

PHILADELPHIA, March 24.—(AP)—John Foster Dulles says the North Atlantic pact can halt war forever—or be the immediate cause of a third world conflict.

Dulles told the closing session of the 3rd annual Philadelphia Bulletin forum last night "the pact is defensive" but "it is not a defensive pact."

"Unless we are very careful Soviet leaders might jump to the conclusion that the pact is, in fact, a defensive pact," he warned.

"If so," Dulles warned, "it might bring on the war which it is designed to prevent."

Dulles is U. S. delegate to the United Nations.

Charles E. Bohlen, state department counselor, said the North Atlantic pact became a reality because the United Nations peace machinery is stalled by Russian veto and defiance.

Bohlen said only congress can order the U. S. to war—despite the wording of the pact.

Dulles, however, insisted the U. S. would join the fight—immediately—should any member nation be attacked.

Plans Are Made For Campaign To Obtain Hospital

Each Community And Area Be Asked To Join Effort

Definite plans for the county-wide campaign in behalf of the $550,000 bond issue whereby Navarro county will get a 100-bed memorial hospital were perfected at a meeting held at the courthouse Wednesday evening. The $250,000 public subscriptions campaign "is over the top."

Each community and area will be asked to conduct a campaign in behalf of the proposal whereby the $1,200,000 "living memorial to Navarro County war heroes" will become a reality.

Dr. Gurley H. Sanders, Kereks, chairman of the advisory board, appointed several community chairmen and committees and will name additional ones during the next few days. A rally will be held early next week in programs as the "kick-off campaign event."

H. R. Stroube, finance committee chairman, reported the financial campaign "is over the top."

Remittances are still being received from persons who desire to have a part in the campaign, and any money over the goal will likewise be devoted to the establishment, construction, furnishing and equipping the proposed hospital.

The federal government has appropriated $400,000 toward the project contingent on the $250,000 and the $550,000 items. The first is an accomplished fact and only the bond issue stands in the way of the goal.

Curtis Patterson of Frost, who with Dr. A. L. Grizzaffi, will head the Frost campaign, said that community leaders carry the question to the people through committees, churches, etc.

"It is desired for many reasons—to help our people—and to keep good doctors here. We need the hospital," Patterson said.

J. Miller Reid, Blooming Grove, a co-chairman with W. A. Crawford at Blooming Grove, said the leading citizens of Blooming Grove were for the hospital.

Charles E. Kereks of Kereks predicted the proposal will carry at Kereks.

Earl McDaniel, Richland leader and member of the county advisory board, said a majority of the people at Richland are for the hospital.

Hal Brister and Mrs. Ford Ivey have been appointed in charge at Kereks by Chairman Sanders.

A motion picture, "The Chairman Sanders appoints a five-man steering committee to have charge of the Corsicana campaign and also to assist other community organizations," requested, Louis W. Jansen was named to head the Corsicana committee with the authority to name his four committee-men.

W. B. Payne is chairman at Purvis.

Bill Passed To Legalize Funds For Health Unit

The Texas House of Representatives today passed a bill which authorizes any county in Texas to allocate funds to city-county health units.

The bill has already passed the senate and now awaits only the signature of Gov. Beauford Jester to remove any barriers commissioners courts have or think they have preventing them from earmarking funds.

Representative George O. Nokes, Jr., of Corsicana, notified the Corsicana Daily Sun at 1:15 p. m. Thursday that the bill had been passed by both houses.

Nokes had introduced a similar bill after the Corsicana-Navarro Health Unit had become involved in a battle over contents.

"The bill as passed is the same as mine," Nokes said. "It got through both houses first, and it is all that is necessary. It removes any doubts the commissioners court may have as to the legality of giving funds in support of the unit."

Nokes said the author of the bill was Sen. John Bell of Cuero.

Railway Crash In Georgia Fatal To Train Engineer

JESSUP, Ga., March 24.—(AP)—A passenger and freight train collided head-on today, killing an engineer and injuring a fireman seriously.

James Paul Parrish, 51, of Savannah, Ga., engineer of an Atlantic Coast line passenger train was killed. He was buried under a pile of coal.

His fireman, Willie Murray of Savannah, was scalded and is not expected to live.

None of the 25 passengers was hurt.

Houston Suburb Shaken By Blast As Gas From Oil Well Catches Fire

HOUSTON, Tex., March 24.—(AP)—A roar-roaring oil well gas fire shook south Houston homes late yesterday, lighted up the night sky and ended up being in the store frame structure, before being after blazing for more than nine hours.

The flame came in a bursting flash shortly after 6 p. m. yesterday which was seen for more than 20 miles, according to telephone reports.

Officials of the Productiva Maintenance company, which was drilling an adjacent well, said the burning gas came from the R. Y. Smith well immediately south of Winkler Drive in the south Houston oil field.

The blaze was finally extinguished about 4 a. m. today after more than 40 workmen pumped hundreds of sacks of drilling mud into the burning hole, smothering the fire.

Heavy mud is injected into well holes to control gas pressures encountered prior to completion of well.

J. K. Butler, vice president of the drilling company, reported that a nearby pool house, which was used for the drilling crew, was burned to the ground and that the rig and rig crewmen escaped injury.

Calvin P. Williams, south Houston oil man, who owns three producing wells abutting the exploded well, was an eye witness to the initial blast.

"Boy, I thought the whole sky was afire when that column of flame went up. I ran to the back door of the house, looking for the drilling crew because I thought it was afire when they were there."

Two Killed When Tennessee Hotel Swept By Flames

WAVERLY, Tenn., March 24.—(AP)—Two persons were killed when a fire swept through the Dixieland Hotel here early today.

One man was killed in a leap from the second floor of the two-story frame structure, and the other was found dead in his room from smoke and fumes, Deputy Sheriff Grady Gray said.

Some 20 persons escaped from the blazing structure without injury, Gray added.

The deputy identified the dead as G. B. Reed of Goodlettsville, near Nashville, and Aniel Lewis of Memphis.

New Treaties—More Non-Communists Pacts Expected

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—Proposals for the United States to support some new non-Communist defense pacts are expected here as soon as the North Atlantic treaty is out of the way.

Diplomatic authorities said today that so far two alliance systems have been informally talked about and appear most likely to receive serious consideration. These are:

1. An Eastern Mediterranean-Eurasian treaty based on Iran, Turkey and Greece and designed to provide a greater degree of security in that strategic area of the world.

2. A southeast Asian-Southwest Pacific system designed to provide some kind of machinery to deal with the growing threat resulting from Communist successes in China.

So far the possibility of new international organizations along these lines is only in the idea stage, at least as far as Washington is concerned. But once the senate discussion of the Atlantic pact is over, authorities are sure much more will be heard of them.

Abroad, proposals for an Eastern Mediterranean pact have been more fully developed. Both the Greek and Turkish foreign ministers have discussed the idea with British foreign minister Bevin. It is possible that Bevin and Acheson may take up the subject when the Atlantic pact foreign ministers gather here late next week for the signing of their treaty.

Acheson told a news conference yesterday he would talk with the visiting foreign ministers about any subject they wanted to take up with him.

President Truman will send the Atlantic treaty to the senate shortly after it is signed. Committee hearings and senate debate could then run into several weeks. On the theory of taking up and settling one major issue at a time, the state department has been anxious not to let the Atlantic treaty become complicated with other similar projects.

American officials will face two major questions in trying to make policy decisions on these other defense groupings.

One is whether the United States actively favor, and in some manner support them. The other question is whether the United States should actually join other regional defense systems in addition to the Inter-American organization to which it already belongs and the Atlantic Alliance which it now proposes to enter.

Solons In Austin Refuse New Life To Bonus Measure

Proposals Killed By Being Sent To Opponents

AUSTIN, March 24.—(AP)—The house turned down an effort today to keep the veterans bonus proposal alive. The vote was 70-0.

Two proposals for a veterans bonus were heard in a hectic session of the house committee on constitutional amendments yesterday afternoon. Both were virtually killed when they were sent to an unfriendly subcommittee.

Rep. Jimmy Horany of Archer City asked the house to re-refer his measure to the house committee on military and veterans affairs.

"If the bill is going to progress, I feel this is one step I should take," Horany declared. "The committee brought up my bill against my will and then sent it to this subcommittee. Most subcommittees do not go into details of any bill."

Rep. Callahan Graham of Junction, a member of the subcommittee to which Horany's measure was sent, declared that the committee gave the bonus proposals a complete hearing.

Power Question

The senate ordered its general investigating committee to look into the controversy over sale of hydro-electric power from Possum Kingdom dam on the Brazos river. Directly involved is a contract between the Brazos River Construction and Reclamation district and the Brazos River Transmission Electric Cooperative.

The house decided a plan to rewrite the state constitution needed more study. It voted 85-43 to send a resolution by Rep. George Nokes of Corsicana back to another committee before it should be taken up on the floor.

Nokes explained that the resolution would set up a 24-member commission to study the constitution and make recommendations for changes to the legislature. The commission would be given $30,000 for expenses.

Objection

Rep. Jim Sparks of Sherman objected. "Why appropriate money to pay men to come down here and study something we're supposed to be studying?" he asked.

The senate passed and sent to the governor a house bill allowing the lower Colorado river author-

Recovery To Take Precedence Over Arms, Texas Says

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—Europe's economic recovery has taken the right-of-way over any military program to support the proposed North Atlantic Security Pact, Senator Connally (D-Texas) said today.

"I should like to make it clear," Connally told the senate, "the basic policy of the United States government is to accord economic recovery a clear priority."

The veteran chairman of the senate foreign relations committee opened debate on the $5,000,000 program to aid Western Europe in the next 15 months. Some senators have suggested cheeping from $1,000,000,000 to $2,250,000,000 from the total.

But Connally urged his colleagues to approve the authorization bill in full. It puts a limit on the amount to be spent by the Economic Co-operation Administration, but it does not provide the actual cash.

This would be done by appropriation.

Connally said the question has been raised whether "the contemplated military assistance program will interfere with the execution of the recovery program by the diversion of European manpower and materials for defense purposes."

While no definite answer can be given at this time, Connally said, "the military assistance program should, in fact, have a beneficial effect on economic recovery by strengthening the feeling of confidence and security."

Unofficial estimates are that an arms program for members of the Atlantic pact will cost about $1.5 billion.

Mississippi Goes Through Levee To Flood Rich Area

BATON ROUGE, La., March 24.—(AP)—The muddy Mississippi River broke suddenly through a weakened levee and flooded a rich sugarcane planting area today.

By mid-morning the water had spread over about eight square miles.

The area is sparsely populated, however. Sheriff's deputies estimated only about 10 persons lived in the area covered. Another 700 in the surrounding sections were believed in possible danger.

The levee break was in a "V" shape. At 10 a. m. (CST) it was about 500 feet wide on the river side and 15 to 200 feet on the inside. It appeared to be spreading slowly.

The water was three or four feet deep over most of the area near the break, and was not rising. However, it was spreading slowly over the land.

The break occurred at a large m. (CST), about three miles north of Port Allen, across the river from Baton Rouge.

Within three hours the water had moved three miles in from the river. Highway 70 was covered to a depth of three feet.

Sheriff's deputies and volunteers patrolled the roads, knocking on doors and urging residents to leave their homes. The Red Cross set up a reception line in Port Allen to care for refugees.

The break occurred at a large bend beside the Wilkinson Sugar Plantation. The river washes directly against the levee at that point.

The break came as a complete surprise, as the river stage had not been considered dangerous. Deputy Sheriff H. L. Oncal, Jr., said.

Probe Of Senate Race In Texas Is Due To Be Held

SAN ANTONIO, March 24.—(AP)—A Congressional sub-committee will look into the Texas senatorial election dispute of last fall, according to a letter received yesterday by Sen. Tasto, San Antonio attorney.

The dispute involved Coke Stevenson and Sen. Lyndon Johnson.

The letter was from Sen. Frank J. Meyers, chairman of the U. S. Senate committee on privilege and elections.

Tasto said the letter was a reply to his suggestion that charges of election irregularities in Duval and some other Texas counties be looked into by the national senate.

Johnson was declared winner of the election by 87 votes. Stevenson contested the result.

Rankin Plan Goes To Committee By One-Vote Margin

Rep. Teague's Move Virtually Kills Bill For Session

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—By a one-vote margin, the House today shelved the Rankin Veterans' pension bill.

A roll-call vote of 208 to 207 sent the measure back to the veterans committee for further study.

It is possible for the veterans' committee to write a new bill and send it back to the House at a later date.

But Chairman Rankin (D-Miss) told the House the vote to recommend that the bill be dead.

"That kills this legislation for this Congress," Rankin said.

Rankin's bill already had been so amended that it bore little resemblance to his original proposal for $90 a month pensions at age 65.

RANKIN PLAN

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—Here is how Texas members of the house voted today on the bill to shelve the veterans' pension bill: (all Democratic)

For—Bentzen, Burleson, Combs, Fisher, Gossett, Kilday, Lucas, Mahon, Pickett, Poage, Regan, Teague, Thomas, Thompson, Thornberry, Wilson and Worley.

Against—Beckworth, Lyle and Patman.

65 to all World War One and World War Two veterans.

The vote to throw it back to committee climaxed a series of maneuvers on the floor.

Rep. Teague (D-Tex) made the motion to send it back.

The roll call vote was first announced at 209 to 208 against the motion.

But on a recount, it developed that the tabulators had erred on the first count.

There were no vote switches on the recapitulation.

Teague McCormack (D-Miss), presiding in the absence from the duty of Speaker Rayburn, ordered the recount on his own initiative.

The House sat in tense silence as the names of each member and the way they voted were called out by clerks. It was so quiet the automatic counter used by the clerks could be heard clicking.

It was the closest vote on a major bill in the House since late in 1941, when, by a one-vote margin, the bill to continue the draft law was passed.

Two non-record votes preceded the roll call.

Teague first moved to strike out the bill's enacting clause—ordinarily a motion that kills a bill if it carries. That lost 169 to 158 on a standing count.

Teague's motion to send the bill back to committee followed, bringing the roll call and the recount of the vote first announced on it.

Applause.

When McCormack announced the result of the recount a few members applauded.

Teague's face flushing, slowly gathered up his papers without challenging the result.

For the Mississippi, it was a galling defeat. A change of two votes would have made passage of his bill virtually certain on a direct vote on the bill.

When all the checking and re-checking was over, the roll call showed that 151 Democrats and 57 Republicans voted up to send the bill back to the committee.

Previously, at the start of debate three days ago, it had voted to shelve the bill by an off-the-record vote but reversed itself when put on the record.

As originally called up, Rankin's bill provided for a pension of $90 a month to all World War I and II veterans at age 65, regardless of financial need.

Communists' Plans For America Are Given A Trial

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP)—The Communist conspiracy trial jury was told today that Russian Premier Joseph Stalin once said "violent destruction" was essential to proletarian revolution in the United States.

The statement was in a book, "Foundations of Leninism" by Stalin. Excerpts from it were read to the jury by U. S. Attorney John F. McGohey.

The book was one of several publications identified by Louis F. Budenz, one-time Communist party official who is the government's first witness. He said he used the publications constantly in his 10 years of party work.

Stalin's book said the proletarian revolution in this country "is impossible without the violent destruction of the machinery of the bourgeois state and its replacement by the machinery of the proletarian state."

A party organization manual introduced into evidence over vociferous defense objections declared the final objective of the American Communist party is to establish "a Soviet Socialist Republic in the United States."

Such a republic was to be established through a revolution in which party members "must be ready to sacrifice their lives," the manual said.

The "Manual of Organization of the Communist Party" was admitted into evidence after vociferous defense objections.

Louis F. Budenz, prosecution witness, identified the manual as a duplicate of the one given him by Joseph Stachel, a defendant.

A defense counsel said the publication was issued in 1935 and should be excluded because the indictment covers a conspiracy alleged to have taken place between 1945 and 1948.

Federal judge Harold Medina overruled the objections. He then issued a warning that if defense counsel continued to make lengthy statements on such points, he would take action.

Lewis Tells His Coal Miners To Resume Working

PITTSBURGH, March 24.—(AP)—John L. Lewis today ordered his 493,000 idle coal miners to return to work Monday.

An executive order to district officers said:

"The present memorial period will terminate Monday, March 28. Production may then be resumed in all mines and all members should make themselves available for work on that date."

The order was directed to miners east of the Mississippi who have been idle since March 14 in a work stoppage Lewis said was meant as a memorial to dead and injured workers. Lewis said it also would protest appointment of Dr. James Boyd as head of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

The mine closings have cost the diggers some $30,000,000 in wages. During the mine shutdown, coal-carrying railroads laid off more than 70,000 employees.

Lewis asked about the order in Washington, said he would have no comment.

Big Demand Seen For Farm Workers

AUSTIN, Tex., March 24.—(AP)—Larger crops, especially wheat and cotton, will probably run demand for farm labor higher than the 1948 level, the Texas Employment Commission predicted yesterday.

Henry LeBlanc, chief of the TEC's farm placement department, urged Texas farmers to contact their nearest TEC office and make known their 1949 farm labor needs.

McALLEN, Tex., March 24.—(AP)—A man arrested while wearing a skirt, blouse, silk stockings, slippers and a girdle was in jail here last night.

He said he was trying to catch minnows. Bales said, "He talks sensibly."

Bill Providing Rural Road Fund Signed By Jester

AUSTIN, March 24.—(AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester today signed the bill allocating 15 million dollars a year for rural road construction.

His signature completed enactment of the measure by Senator Neville H. Colson of Navasota.

"Priority will be given to presently unimproved roads that are found to be most needed as feeder routes, secondary roads, school bus routes, rural mail routes, milk routes, and so on," Jester said.

Jester congratulated the legislature, specially Mrs. Colson, and Rep. Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde, house sponsor of the plan, "up or a great accomplishment."

The Tiger thin-clads scored 60 points to win. The Hillsboro Eagles came in second with 44 tallies, Hubbard third with 21, and Milford fourth with 18.

It was the second win of the season for Coach Garland Matthews' squad, which has but one veteran of last year to bolster it in the 1949 track and field events.

George Anderson of the Tigers led the locals, capturing first place in two events, the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard dash.

The results:

100-yard dash—George Anderson, Corsicana. Time: 10.7 seconds.

PRICE REDUCTIONS

By Willys-Overland

Price reductions announced by Willys-Overland put the company's vehicles at the lowest price level in their field, according to J. A. Penney Motor Co., of Corsicana, Texas, Willys-Overland dealer.

The price reductions range from $25 to $270. In the passenger car field, Willys-Overland now has the lowest priced full-size station wagon, station sedan, and sports car, Mr. Penney declared. The new prices of the Willys-Overland three-quarter ton truck, four-wheel-drive truck, panel delivery, and Universal Jeep are also in the lowest range of their respective fields, he said.

"These new low prices represent a double saving," Mr. Penney pointed out. "They provide a low initial cost in addition to the well-known thrift of Willys-Overland vehicles in operation and maintenance. They are now America's most economical as well as most useful vehicles. I am proud that our company took the lead in bringing prices down."

In announcing the price reductions, James D. Moon, president of Willys-Overland, said four major factors have made the move possible at this time. He listed these as:

1. Improvement in steel and other supplies. Willys-Overland now benefits from its purchasing policy during the period of greatest shortage. With steel supplies improving, substantial savings in steel costs are possible since the company is not burdened with long-range contracts at higher prices nor high-cost steel producing facilities.
2. Easing of material shortages, resulting in savings through a sustained volume, a better control of stocks, and a smoother flow of production.
3. Results of the Willys-Overland policy of maintaining its basic models instead of making annual model changes. Combined with high interchangeability of parts, this policy avoids heavy tooling expenditures and costly interruptions of production.
4. Willys-Overland's functional design, which eliminates the wasteful use of materials in frills that add nothing to a motor's performance or comfort.

Grade Is Lower, Staple Longer In '48 Cotton Crop

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP)—The agriculture department said yesterday final surveys showed that the average grade of the 1948 cotton crop was lower than the 1947 crop.

However, the average staple of the 1948 crop was considerably longer.

The lower grade was attributed mainly to (1) rapid harvesting required for a large crop; (2) early November freezes over much of the cotton belt, and (3) frequent rainy spells in some Central and Eastern areas during the late harvesting season.

Improvement in the average staple length was said to have resulted principally from (1) increased production and generally favorable conditions in areas in which the bulk of the medium lengths are produced, and (2) smaller production in those areas where the shorter staples are ordinarily produced in quantity.

Ginnings of all kinds of cotton from the 1948 crop totaled 14,540,000 bales. This was the largest crop since 1937.

The department said over 10,000,000 bales of medium length cotton—1-32 inches through 3-32 inches—were contained in this season's supply, including a carry-over of 3,082,000 bales from previous years.

complice in the hotel room holdup of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moody and Carlisle Lynton, San Antonio oil man, at Oct. 2.

Bevin Will Talk With Americans On World Affairs

LONDON, March 24.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin told the cabinet today what his views will be in global talks with American leaders next week.

Official sources said that apart from questions arising from the Atlantic alliance, Bevin expects in particular to discuss:

The broad principles relating to the future of Western Germany.
A quicker pact in the Greek government's war against Communist guerrillas.

Measures to back the collective security of Greece, Turkey and Iran.

Jet Bomber Goes To Barksdale To Start New Unit

SHREVEPORT, La., March 24.—(AP)—A B-45 jet bomber has arrived at Barksdale Air Force Base as the start of the first jet bombardment wing in America.

Fifty-three "Tornado" bombers in all will be delivered here to form the 47th bombardment wing.

Col. W. F. Chapman, 47th wing and group commander, landed with the four-jet job yesterday after a 748-mile flight from Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso, Texas. He made it in one hour and 15 minutes.

OIL WELL FIRE

was the new well going down", said Williams.

"It was sure a relief to see those five men running away from their drill deck", he added.

Both Butler and Williams expressed the theory that the drilling of the new well could have been the possible cause of the abandoned well "going up."

He gave credit to the Spartan Oil Company, Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Company, the Stanolind Oil and Gas Company and the law officers for assisting in the fire fighting.

No estimate of the damage was immediately available, he said, but it was believed that the partially drilled well would have to be abandoned.

The usual run of curiosity seekers lined the adjacent roads for miles and more than 100 traffic officers from Houston and surrounding communities battled the crowds straining for a glimpse of "a burning gusher."

The fire, which had a bright yellow glare, was thought to have been subdued twice, but came roaring back to life, hissing its way into the air. Before the heavy mud finally squelched it.

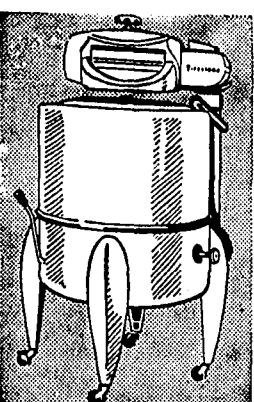

The drilling crew had reported earlier in the week that they had "felt the well kick once or twice" and were on the watchout for a possible explosion fire.

Telephone calls from as distant a point as Texas City reached the local police department and sheriff's office inquiring about the blaze.

License Is Revoked.

ATLANTA, March 24.—(AP)—The license of a negro real estate dealer, who sold homes in a white neighborhood to negroes, was revoked yesterday by the Georgia Real Estate Commission.

The commission found J. E. Calhoun guilty of falsely assuring a negro purchaser she could move into a home without opposition.

Calhoun said he might pull Georgia into federal court on grounds his civil rights were violated.

NEGLECT.

Time was she'd look about and say:

"The walls should be papered."

But these are needs, with her

I away,

I never seem to see.

Now here's another spring to face

With much that should be done,

But why repair an empty place

Where all the dreams are spun?

I know she'd say: "We ought to paint."

The walls and floors are bare."

For time has left on them the taint

That proves the lack of care.

But there must be the will to do

The work from year to year,

And she who would the home

renew

No longer can be here.

The spring is coming on again.

The need for paint I see,

But still I let the place remain

The way it used to be.

What matter now the stains of

I blindly pass them by.

Since she's no longer here to care,

No longer care can I.

outcome; and where they can modify, or displace wholly, any given administration by non-violent methods of adverse majority vote, under assurance of the right to get out the vote and have it cast in secrecy — where these rights exist in fact, there is democracy. Where-they are denied, in fact, there is tyranny.

What better description could be made of all that a true democracy is? The United States does not everywhere, unfortunately, live up to all these requirements, but at least we cherish them as ideals. And Russia and other Communist states practice them nowhere.

CO-OPERATION IN ASIA

Now that the free nations of Asia have had their first

Asian Conference, the leaders are anxious to carry the movement further. The conference was called to consider the question of Indonesia, about which no significant decision was reached. But the delegation also explored

the possibilities of co-operation among the nations of Asia in other fields.

The immediate results were not especially encouraging. In fact the chief conclusion was that the region represented at the conference included "a vast area of differences." It is a good omen for the future that the advocates of Asiatic co-operation are not disheartened by the small results of their first conference, but are instead eager to carry on their explorations.

It would mean much not only for the peoples of Asia

but for the rest of the world

if a successful organization of these nations could be effected. Historically they both their neighbor nations have been inclined to distrust and foreigners from afar.

Co-operation belongs to a new era.

LAWS FOR GERMANY

The representatives of the German people who have built a framework for the country's new legal system have had one thing in their favor: they have been able to start from scratch.

The new constitution thus contains some provisions

new to Germany and some which are found in the basic law of no other country.

Equal rights are provided for men and women, thus doing away with Germany's former archaic system which gave women few rights either privately or politically.

As for international affairs,

the preparation for or waging war is unconstitutional.

Another important provision allows the government to yield authority to an international agency and to join in alliances for mutual aid and protection.

The military government will grant no police powers to the constitutional government, however, and will not interfere with its internal

Navarro Golfers Lose To Kilgore In Match Here

The Navarro Junior College golfers, playing with two Corsicana high school team members, dropped a 15-2 1/2 decision to the Kilgore Junior College golfers at the Country Club course here Tuesday afternoon.

Navarro took a 4-2 decision from the Kilgore golfers in the East Texas city last week, and Tuesday's contest was a return affair.

Albert McMichael of Navarro and Archie Bagwell of Kilgore broke even in the number one match, both carding a 78 for the round.

In the number two match, Kilgore's Billy Joe Sutton took a 78 against John D. Goin's 85.

Kilgore's Fred Thresher was low medalist for the day with a 36-38-72 in the number 3 match with Clayton Stubbs, who carded an 85.

In the number four match, K. John Zoller took an 82, while Navarro's Johnnie Garner carded a 91.

Garner and Stubbs, who are playing on the Corsicana high school golf team, will probably take part in other matches this year scheduled by the Navarro team.

This will not hurt their eligibility, since the Interscholastic League does not sponsor high school golf.

PERMANENT WORLD CONQUEST RESTS IN ACTS OF MERCY

Christianity Pays No Attention to Frontiers—True Faith Measured by Missionary Zeal—Divine Mercy Stoops to Man's Need—Modern Believers Often Tongue-Tied, Deaf

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS.

Along Dog River, just north of Beirut, is the most famous collection of memorials of victory—erect, carved into the living rock of the cliffs. All the great conquerors of ancient history are there represented: Sargon, Sennacherib, Nebuchadnezzar, Alexander the Great, etc. Nowhere than at this spot may a traveler more profitably muse upon the long, long history of warfare.

But there is one conqueror whose name does not appear in the Dog River Hall of Fame. Yet he is not without memorials. In neighboring Beirut stands the Christian American University, which has laid a shaping hand upon the entire Near East. Syria is today a Christian land.

The tremendous truth which this Lebanon signifies, of racial and individual tolerance, is just about the world's biggest political issue. The swift and dramatic turning in our day to independence and equality with other nations roots in the olden spirit of Jesus. We are witnessing the consequences of missionary teaching. The present wonderful harvest of racial good will is a fruit of missions. This is a day to read the newspapers in the light of the Bible and the Bible in the light of the newspapers.

As we read this passage of Scripture, we should catch the significance of the fact that Jesus crossed frontiers. This was symbolic of what was to happen with increased intensity as the centuries passed. For the characteristic of Christianity has been that it is a missionary religion, pressing with relentless vigor through the centuries against the strongholds of idolatry, paganism, and moral corruption. His brief mission of Tyre and Sidon was symbolic of the essential missionary character of the religion He came to found.

The well-known incredible change which has taken place in the map of the world within the past few years has its origin in the new spirit which permeates mankind and which derives from the expansion of Tyre and Sidon. The United Nations is a Christian phenomenon.

The lavish expenditures by Christian nations, such as the United States, Canada and Great Britain, would be an impossible except for the fundamental change which has been wrought in society by the influence of Jesus.

Such a total of benevolence as has been poured out fairly staggers the imagination and must be reckoned as a Christian achievement. Any up-to-date consideration of the Sunday school lesson requires not only recognition of the Master's contact with Syria, Decapolis and the Samaritans, but also a clear look at how the church has gone "into all the world."

There are many facets to the character of Jesus but the one we consider today is that of a great internationalist. In an era of national narrowness and bitterness He crossed frontiers to help people. His influence lies out hope of a new world society. When self interest is supplanted by Christian love then all desirable goals are possible.

Nothing is said in the Scripture about the impressive sights of Tyre and Sidon by this Man who had grown up in a small town. (Archaeologists are still uncovering splendid "wonders") His purpose was human helpfulness, of the sort Christian nations are seeking to emulate in their dealings with other peoples.

Most readers of these lines remember when "exploitation" was the key note of "civilized" nations' dealings with backward peoples. Today Christian countries are impoverishing themselves in order to succor the world's needy. They are doing on a grand scale what the missionary has always done in limited measure.

After the miraculous healing of the Syro-Phoenician woman's daughter, Jesus crossed the land to the Decapolis (the Greek "Ten Cities") on the eastern side of the Lake of Galilee. Here we have recorded another miracle of healing, performed on a man who had an impediment in his speech and was deaf.

Noted Modern Miracles. The man was ignorant and superstitious but he had within him a spark of faith. But Jesus fanned it into a flame. He went right down to the man's low level of intelligence and healed him there. He talked his language, which he could sign language. But He compelled the man to look up to heaven and to realize that the healing was not a matter of magic but something given by the merciful God Himself.

The afflicted man of Decapolis is still with us—the shy Christian who never bears witness to his faith; the preacher whose tongue is strangely impeded when positive Christian doctrine needs to be preached; the church member whose ears are stopped to the Gospel because he so seldom goes to church to hear it preached.

But when the ears of the deaf are opened, and their tongues made to speak, then the world says of the Christ who performed the miracle: "He hath done all things well; He maketh both the deaf to hear and the dumb to speak."

The faith in which we can live bravely and die in peace must be a certainty, as near as it is possible to be a faith at all or it is nothing.—Froude.

Tiger Baseballers Drop 9-6 Count To Woodrow Wilson

Too many errors cost the Corsicana Tigers a 9-6 setback at the hands of the Woodrow Wilson baseball team in Dallas Tuesday afternoon in a non-conference encounter. It was the first loss of the season for the Tigers.

The locals earned all six of their tallies, while Woodrow Wilson registered only two earned runs, but the seven errors, most of which came at critical points, put the Tigers in the hole.

The Tiger undoing was a shaky nightmare in the third frame, when the Dallasites pushed over six tallies. The Paymen came back to score the most in the final four frames, but couldn't overcome the early advantage.

Frank Warfield, Rayborn Matthews and Jarrell Owens took batting honors for the locals, all three collecting doubles which drove in two runs each. Andrews for Woodrow Wilson was their best hitter, collecting four hits in as many trips.

Walter Bond started on the mound for the Tigers, and was replaced by Caton in the fourth frame. Coach Payne said that both his hurlers turned in good performances. "It was the errors that hurt us," he remarked, adding that the Tigers hope to even the score in the game with the Dallasites here Saturday.

IOOF Home Here May Be Expanded; Officers Named

WACO, March 22.—(Staff Special)—Reconditioning of one of the old dormitories at the IOOF Home in Corsicana in an expansion program is being considered today at the annual session of Texas Grand Lodge here.

The proposal is for the reconditioning of the first floor of the old girls dormitory—new plumbing fixtures, etc., at an estimated cost of $20,000—and the making of it into a dormitory to augment present facilities of the new Home that are becoming overcrowded due to the large number of children admitted during the past two years. The proposition will be under the supervision of the board of trustees. The finance committee was to study the matter relative to the financing of the expansion program and the resolution passed Monday night said the work would proceed when the money is made available.

Annual Pilgrimages
The annual pilgrimages the Sunday before Labor Day to the Homes in Corsicana and Ennis was approved and authorized. The sessions of both bodies of the IOOF—grand lodge and Rebekah Assembly of Texas—continued today, and will end sometime Wednesday.

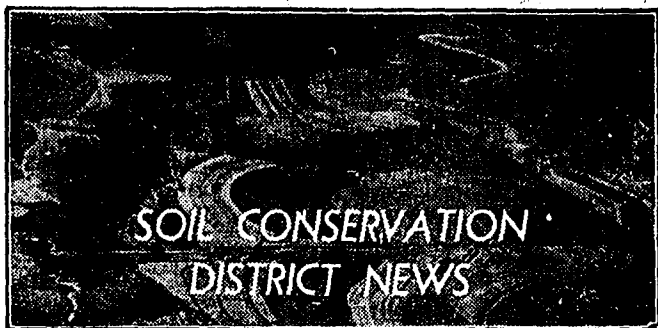

More than 400 delegates were present at the opening business sessions Monday, in addition to prominent figures from various jurisdictions of the nation.

District Supervisors Navarro-Hill Soil Conservation District: Morris Crawford, chairman; W. C. Pearce, vice-chairman; Thad Jones, secy.

On Friday, March 11, approximately 150 people gathered on the J. C. Miller farm four miles northeast of Powell and observed the machine that will plant Bermuda grass sprigs at an average rate of two acres per hour. Three collective terrace outlets containing approximately nine acres were sodded in five hours. The area will be used for pasture and also for terrace outlet water.

This two-row sodding machine may help solve one of the biggest problems of the Navarro-Hill soil conservation district by helping co-operators to establish good terrace outlets and pasture. Supervisors of the district are urging co-operators to sod their outlets now while there is plenty of moisture in the ground.

C. E. Biddy, whose farm is located six miles west of Corsicana in the Corbett conservation group, has just completed sodding 1-2 acres to be used as a terrace outlet. His ground was bedded, re-bedded and harrowed so that it would be level and the Bermuda sods would be constructed until a good cover of grass is established.

W. A. Lang, whose farm is two miles southeast from Barry, sodded approximately 15 acres of Bermuda grass for collective terrace outlet water in November, 1948. The sprigs were planted on 18-inch rows. The area was overseeded with vetch to add fertility, to improve grazing, and for a seed plot.

L. W. Varnell, Barry conservation group, whose farm is three miles northeast of Barry, sodded approximately three acres of Bermuda to be used as a waterway. He started from center and dropped sprigs in each furrow. This put the sod close together and should give a quick cover.

Mich., deputy sovereign grand master, headed the prominent visitors.

The annual poster contest, sponsored by the national society, is limited to students of secondary schools. Total of 2,500,000 seals are being printed this year in two editions, and are now being placed on sale in various sections of the country.

EUROPE

000,000,000—possibly more—in the first year. The treaty is scheduled to be signed April 4 by the United States, Great Britain, Canada, Belgium, France, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Denmark, and Norway.

Connally praised the achievements of ECA in the past year. But even though progress has been great, he said, Europe has not yet achieved recovery and still needs American dollars. But he said that by June, 1952, Europe must be "independent of extraordinary American aid."

"We do not expect to continue this program beyond that time," Connally said. He added that next year's air program will be cut "considerably below" the first year's program, which cost $5,055,000,000.

Barbs at Russia.
Connally directed several sharp barbs at Russia. He said the countries of Western Europe "have resisted the corrosive but cheap and ugly doctrine of Communism that destroys and corrupts, the doctrine that assails both the dignity of man and the morality of God."

He took note of some earlier talk of cutting funds for Britain, commenting: "We must conclude that any substantial but in dollar aid to Britain would be a tragic mistake. It would seriously retard British and European recovery. The estimated British requirements for dollar aid next year already represent a 24 percent cut over last year, compared with a 15 percent reduction for ERP countries as a whole."

Connally said the committee feels China should be "dealt with separately in relation to the unique circumstances that exist in that country." He suggested that the United States might "continue its economic relief until the next harvest in areas of China that remain free of Communist domination."

"Meanwhile, if the situation in China should clarify itself sufficiently, consideration could be given to such further measures as might be appropriate."

The senate measure provides for two five per cent rent increases provided the cumulative boost did not push a tenant's rent more than 15 per cent over the level of June 30, 1947.

The first of the two five per cent hikes could be put into effect October 1, 1949. The second could be charged April 1, 1950. The senate bill extends federal rent controls a flat 12 months and offers tenants who want it an additional three months of protection. During the latter period, no tenant could be evicted simply for refusing to pay more rent. Hence, the effect is a 15-month extension for those who want it.

RENT CONTROL
Administration leaders succeeded in battling down most amendments they contended would cripple rent control. But they came out on the short end of a couple of counts, too.

In one case, the Democrats deserted President Truman in large numbers. That was on an amendment by Senator Magnuson (D-Wash.) to continue rent controls two years as Mr. Truman asked. That proposal was swamped, 75 to 10.

The decontrol lets cities and towns junk rent controls at any time if the state governor approves. That went in Tuesday on an amendment by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.).

The house bill has a broader "home rule" provision. Under it, states, counties, cities or smaller political subdivisions could decontrol without the governor's okay.

Holiday Friday At Jr. College
Navarro Junior College will observe a holiday on Friday, March 25, and the faculty of the institution will judge and assist in running of the competition in the interscholastic League events of the county scheduled at the State Home here on that date, President Ray Waller announced Wednesday. Literary events of the county meet will be held at the Home Friday. Some competition in volleyball will also be run off, but the rest of the athletic events are scheduled for April 1 and 2.

COMMUNISTS

would restrict them to a few words in making objections.

The government unfolded yesterday to the jury a Communist master plan for general strikes and revolts "according to the rules of military science."

The prosecutor of 11 Communist party leaders read from a Communist document which bristled with such words as "armed insurrection," "revolutionary positions," "Putschism," "Revolutionary Uprising," and "Mobilization of the Masses."

A copy of this Communist program was identified by Louis F. Budenz, former Communist official who renounced the party in 1945 and returned to the Roman Catholic church.

Budenz testified that the party had demanded his loyalty to Premier Stalin as the leader of Communist world revolution in all countries, including the United States.

The witness said some of the defendants, being tried on charges of conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the U. S. government by force and violence, had taken such loyalty pledges in Moscow.

Budenz was the first witness called by the government in the ten-week old trial.

The defense got an offer of help yesterday from Earl Browder, deposed leader of the U. S. Communist party who has been attacked recently by the Daily Worker, the party's official publication.

Browder, who was general secretary of the party several years ago, said he was prepared to testify that Communist policy has always been to overthrow the government of the U. S. by force.

Hitting back at the Daily Worker, he said it printed an "absurd" report that he was preparing to enter the Roman Catholic church.

Part of the Communist document identified at the trial by Budenz was read by U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohery. The prosecutor previously had told the jury that the 11 defendants held the key to a planned American revolution.

The document—the 135 Communist program—called for "intensified revolutionary work in the army and navy."

said the water was "just high enough to come through the break."

Yesterday's river stage at Baton Rouge was 34 feet, a foot below flood stage. The river had fallen half a foot in the previous 24 hours.

It has been falling for several days, following a crest reached as the result of the Ohio River flood coming down the Mississippi.

Not Understood. Stephen Lirhtblau, river forecaster of the U. S. Weather Bureau in New Orleans, said: "I don't understand it (the break). The river has been higher than it is now every year, at least since 1943. In 1945 it went over 40 feet at that point."

Fort Allen is a town of about 3,500. The area being flooded is occupied almost entirely by sugar plantations. It is sparsely populated.

Rate of the advance of the water was difficult to determine immediately. Sheriff's officers said nothing could be done to check the flood until it reached comparatively higher ground.

7 a. m. the water was about 2 1/2 miles from Port Allen.

The U. S. Army Engineers rushed to the scene.

Estimates of the size of the break varied. Three hours after the break, deputies reported water going through a gap 200 feet wide, with the levee crumbling on either side.

Sheriff Sidney C. Dubrocoia of West Baton Rouge parish with Sheriff Bryan Clements of East Baton Rouge and their deputies, were patrolling the roads and helping to evacuate residents.

A number of persons were seen walking along the roads carrying belongings.

Frank McGurk of Baton Rouge, Red Cross field representative in charge of the mid-state area, was supervising relief activities along with the scene.

There were no immediate reports of casualties.

Damage to the Sugar cane crop, livestock and other property was expected to run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Army engineers said it would take at least a week to close the gap.

Governor Earl K. Long called upon all state departments to render every possible assistance, and went to the scene himself.

The Coast Guard sent 20 boats to the area from New Orleans, Galveston, Texas, and Biloxi, Miss. Army helicopters were reported en route from San Antonio, Texas.

for its third day of debate, it took something like a combined pension-bonus bill.

The House tentatively accepted an amendment by Rep. Jacobs (D-Ind.) knocking out the $90 pension figure and substituting what amounted to a deferred bonus proposal.

The Jacobs plan provides that all veterans would be paid a flat $10 a month at age 65, plus an additional $1 a month for each month of war service and another $3 a month for each month spent in an overseas theater of combat.

The House also adopted an amendment by Rep. Rogers (D-Fla.) establishing a financial need yardstick. Pensions would be barred to veterans whose income is over $2,000 a year if unmarried, or $3,000 if married or with dependents.

Twice the House refused to exclude World War II veterans from pension benefits.

Those amendments written into the bill, however, must still come to the final test on a roll-call vote.

LEGISLATURE

ity to raise is bond limit from 25 to 80 million dollars.

The vote was 39 to 0.

The senate also set as special order of business Monday the proposed constitutional amendment by Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, eliminating the poll tax as a requirement for voting.

The legislature had the taxation-spending issue on its hands today. To solve it, the powerful senate finance committee submitted a plan with these suggestions:

1. Act first on the major "must" appropriations before taking up dozens of requests for special spending.

2. Amend them on the floor or in conference committee to make them one-year appropriations, instead of the usual two-year bills.

3. Defer action on possible new taxes until next January, when a special session would be held.

The suggestions from Chairman James E. Taylor of Kerens came at a committee session at which approval was voted for three of the must-big-money bills. Sent to the senate calendar were these biennial appropriation bills: State Departments, $34,011,976; judiciary, $5,404,554; Eleemosynary, $84,232,246.

State Shortage. These and other big appropriation bills the committee considers essential would leave the state $48,000,000 short if they are enacted for the two year period. That figure does not include any of the single purpose bills—such as those for making Lamar College at Beaumont a four-year school and establishing medical colleges at San Antonio and Dallas.

That boiled the issue down to this: New taxes now, or one-year appropriations next January.

If one-year appropriations are made, Taylor said, the state can end the 1949-50 fiscal year which starts next Sept. 1 with about a $5,000,000 surplus—and this if it limits itself only to what he called essential spending.

Taylor said he did not think the senate finance committee would begin studying a four-page calendar crowded with special money requests until the legislature has decided what it wants to do about the major, essential bills.

The house appropriations committee has already approved some of the so-called special requests such as the Lamar College bill and the medical school measures.

Taylor used these figures in reaching the $48,000,000 shortage: The legislature has already spent $47,236,717. The senate finance committee has approved other items totaling $450,000. The major bills voted yesterday and the higher education measure estimated at $89,228,761 would add $172,897,539. Appropriations still have to be made for junior colleges and the public schools. The total of all those against the comptroller's estimate of income brings $48,684,000—written in red ink.

But the committee, dubious about how the required 400 million dollars would be raised, sent the legislation to a subcommittee for study.

No date was set for the measure to be reported back. This ordinarily is the death knell for a bill.

The senate public health committee approved the basic science bill passed by the house. It now goes to the senate floor with the recommendation that it pass. The bill sets up a board to examine all practitioners of the healing arts in six basic sciences and issue licenses.

Committee approval was by voice vote and only two or three noses out of about 15 members present were heard. Five opponents of the Indochina Battle. SAIGON, Indochina, March 24. (AP)—French soldiers killed 120 Indochinese Sunday and captured 52 in a battle 12 miles west of here, a communiqué announced today.

Bonus Plan. The veterans bonus proposals got a cold reception from the house constitutional amendments committee yesterday. Ex-servicemen thunderously applauded the men who spoke in behalf of paying bonuses ranging from $200 to $500—with more for prisoners of war, disabled vets, or dependents of men killed in service.

But the committee, dubious about how the required 400 million dollars would be raised, sent the legislation to a subcommittee for study.

No date was set for the measure to be reported back. This ordinarily is the death knell for a bill.

The senate public health committee approved the basic science bill passed by the house. It now goes to the senate floor with the recommendation that it pass. The bill sets up a board to examine all practitioners of the healing arts in six basic sciences and issue licenses.

Committee approval was by voice vote and only two or three noses out of about 15 members present were heard. Five opponents of the bill were heard and no one spoke for it.

Earlier the committee approved a bill by Senator Fred Harris of Dallas to strengthen the regulatory and enforcement powers of the State Home of Cosmetology. Opponents who had thought the bill would make home permanent illegal were satisfied with an amendment which Harris said eliminated that possibility.

The State Affairs committee recommended house passage of Rep. Phil Willis' anti-pollution bill, but only after its penalties were weakened considerably.

Willis sought a fine of $100 to $10,000 a day for each day a stream might be polluted. The committee approved a revision making the penalty $100 to $10,000 a day. Present law sets a fine of $200 to $1,000.

A companion measure by Willis redefining what constitutes pollution was killed outright. The committee returned the bill to the house with a recommendation that it not pass.

A bill establishing a state real estate board to license and regulate that business was unanimously approved by the same committee. No one spoke in opposition. The fee for a real estate dealer's license would be raised from $3 to $10.

The committee sent to a sub-group Rep. John E. Morrison's bill seeking to establish a Texas quarter horse association. No time was set for the group to report.

Girl Believed To Be Involved In Slaying Is Held

HOUSTON, Tex., March 24.—(AP)—Harris county probator authorities today said they are holding for identification a young girl they believe to have been involved in the slaying of a Dallas police matron last year.

They believe the girl to have escaped from the Gainesville State School for girls where she was sent after a Dallas trial following the death of Mrs. Kassil M. Chandler, 68, the police matron.

Mrs. Chandler died in a Dallas hospital December 15 from a brain concussion after being attacked by two girls who had called her to the detention cell in which they were being held.

Officials of the Gainesville school have notified Houston probator officials they will come here, probably today, to attempt to identify the girl.

Grasshoppers Are Expected To Be Active In Texas

COLLEGE STATION, March 23. (AP)—Grasshoppers may hop in greater numbers in Texas this year than in 1948 when they caused plenty of trouble.

This is the tenth year of the 10-year grasshopper cycle.

The prediction is based on eggs counts made by workers of the USDA bureau of entomology and plant quarantine grasshopper control division.

South Texas grasshopper eggs will begin to hatch between April 10-15, H. G. Johnston, state grasshopper control leader and head of the Texas A. and M. College entomology department, estimated.

Texas is plagued with two types of the insects—the differential, a big yellow hopper with sergeant stripes on his legs, and the migratory grasshopper.

The worst cross timbers is the dividing line between the two types. Grasshoppers deposit their eggs in heavy soil and the sandy cross timbers area is almost free of the pest.

The worst centers of infestation of the differential grasshopper are expected to be along the Brazos between Waco and Richmond, and along the Trinity as far south as San Jacinto and Polk counties.

Scattered infestations are forecast along creek bottoms in North Texas as far east as Titus county. A lesser—but still well above normal—outbreak of the migratory grasshopper is expected in West Texas, the South Plains and the Panhandle.

When the differential hopper first hatches out, he can be controlled by dusting along fence rows and ditches.

Once the hoppers pass the crawling stage and move out into the fields, control is more difficult and costly.

Proposed Western German State Has Much Opposition

FRANKFURT, Germany, March 24.—(AP)—The plan to create a Western German State has bumped into increasingly powerful opposition. Informed observers now give the idea no better than a 50-50 chance of being worked out. This dark outlook has taken root only in the last few weeks.

The Communists have been opposed right along to any Western German government. It would leave out their Eastern Zone of Germany and minimize Communist influence in the west.

In this opposition they have found some strange allies, acting with different motives but the same end aim: No West German State change.

This opposition includes the strong Socialist party in Western Germany, the French military government and a new German Nationalist movement which aims at a united Germany.

The outcome of the dispute is important.

If the present German constitutional assembly at Bonn fails to adopt a constitution for Western Germany, American and British policy—which calls for setting up such a state—must undergo a complete change.

The German Socialists hold 27 of the 65 votes in the assembly. The assembly can't adopt a constitution without the Socialists since a two-thirds vote is needed. It is an open secret that French representatives in Germany have worked continuously at blocking the proposed Western State. Twice invaded by German armies in recent years, France fears possible revival of a strong Germany.

Texans Warned Of Smallpox Danger By Health Chief

AUSTIN, Texas, March 24.—With the appearance of an unusual number of smallpox cases during the past week, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued a warning that this dangerous, disfiguring and often fatal disease can once again become a widespread health problem unless vaccination is used to protect the public against it.

Four cases of smallpox were reported from one county, and while that number may not seem great, it is nevertheless the same total as was reported for the whole State during the entire year of 1948.

"Smallpox vaccination, which affords complete immunity from this disease, is a painless, inexpensive procedure, which should be used to protect every individual in the State," Dr. Cox said. "When we grow lax about our vaccination and allow susceptible persons to be exposed to smallpox, it follows that the disease will spread throughout the unvaccinated population, bringing serious illness and possible death."

Dr. Cox urged all parents to see that their children have been properly vaccinated, and if there is being in effect, they should be given another vaccination. If they are immune, the vaccination will not "take," but if it does take, then the immunity was low and the vaccination was needed for their protection. "This same thing applies to adults," Dr. Cox said. "Check and be sure that your own immunity is established, as well as that of your children," he advised parents.

Senior Pupils At Kerens High Are Banquet Guests

KERENS, Tex., March 22.—(Sp.)—Thursday night, March 17 will be remembered as one of the highlights of the Year of 1949 by a large group of Kerens High school students. The occasion was the annual Banquet for members of the Kerens High School Senior Class and faculty members, given by the Women's Missionary Society of the Baptist church, in the church basement.

It was a "Cotton" Banquet from start to finish. The long banquet tables with their miniature bales of cotton, black mammy dolls, cotton wagons and cotton burrs were authentic replicas of the old Southern plantation.

The guests found their places marked with cotton burr cards and small cotton sacks held the individual programs. Pear blossoms, which encircled the white tapers, were the only flowers used.

Rev. Melton O. Davis, pastor, acted as toastmaster and "over-seer" and introduced the program. Invocation—Dr. G. H. Sanders, Song "Carry Me Back," Old Virginia.—Entire group.

Medley of Southern songs, by cotton pickers—Charles Newsome, Robert A. Bain, John Hulan McCord and Dink Reese.

A dramatic story of "King Cotton" told by Mrs. Milton O. Davis, with the audience acting the parts of the characters and furnishing the sound effects.

A trio of other Southern melodies, by Misses Dorothy and Helen Griffin and Margaret Johnson of Corsicana, accompanied by Bill Clark, also of Corsicana.

Talk on "Cultivation" or Religious Education, by Rev. E. Colton, pastor of the First Baptist church of Waxahachie.

Benediction, by G. H. Willemson, Supt. of Kerens schools.

Although the menu listed—Cotton seed hulls, cotton bales, cotton stalks and cotton roots and cotton blooms, the food served was English pea, potato salad, drum sticks, shredded carrots and pickles, hot rolls, pineapple cake and cream and iced tea.

The city sought to reopen proceedings and consolidate them with an Indianapolis application for an order directing that Texas Eastern or Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. permit the city to connect with its natural gas facilities.

"Jail on Wheels" "Jail on Wheels" designed by former Sheriff J. Edward Slavin of New Haven, Conn., will be on exhibition at the section of Beaton and Collin streets Thursday, Friday and Saturday, according to an announcement.

This is a one-man crusade against juvenile delinquency and disposes the newest in police equipment for capturing and questioning criminals. One of the features is an electric chair.

Sheriff Slavin is the founder of Boys Village, Milford, Conn., a non-profit organization for homeless boys.

Separation Of City And Schools Is Discussed By B. W. Woolley At Rotary

Although the Corsicana school board wants to be separated from the municipality, it is trying with the idea of using the same tax assessor and collector as the city, it was revealed Wednesday by B. W. Woolley, in a talk before the Rotary Club at the Navarro Hotel.

Dissenting Note
F. Travis Fullwood, street and sanitary commissioner, was the only city official available for comment Wednesday afternoon on suggestion of B. W. Woolley, Corsicana school board member, that if schools and city are separated the same tax assessor and collector would be used.

"First I have heard of that", Fullwood said.

"But I'm afraid that old dog won't hunt."

Woolley, a member of both the school board and the service club, made a strong plea for approval by voters of the divorce.

During it he said the board had discussed various ways of handling the tax money should the separation be voted.

"I think in our situation we could work hand in hand with the city collector or secretary, and it wouldn't increase the cost," Woolley said.

He added that the idea of engaging a person to handle the tax office, and otherwise assist the board by taking care of purchases and routine business that now occupies the time of the superintendent and principals also being discussed by the board.

He said the chief question asked is "who is going to be assessor and collector?"

He said in Waco the collector is given 1 percent as salary. In Hillsboro, Ennis and Waxahachie, he said, salaries range from $25 to $50 for the work.

Woolley declared the board "has no quarrel with the city," adding "I think all but one of the city commission favors separation, and he is undecided."

The speaker, who revealed that he once taught school, "getting whipped the first year and arrested the second," said he wouldn't teach school "for $10,000 a year."

"Yet," he added, "of 977 independent school districts, only 15 pay their teachers salaries below the minimum. Corsicana is one of them, and I am ashamed of it."

He said the prevailing salary is 92.5 percent of the state minimum here.

The need of a gymnasium, requirements for more buildings, and adjustments regarding pupils who live outside the district but attend Corsicana schools were also stressed.

Woolley declared the schools are now getting 85 cents of the minimum $1 allowed for salaries and maintenance. He said regarding the extra 15 cents that could be added per $100 valuation that "I hope we won't have to use it, and I assure you it will never be used unless it becomes absolutely necessary to improve your schools."

John C. Calhoun, former mayor, asked Woolley: "Will you be willing to state there will be no increase in taxes?"

"The only way I can answer that is that at 85 cents the amount we would take in would bear the same tax rate that is being paid now. Values could be increased, and the limits extended, and the extra 15 cents could be added if the maximum is needed, and I don't think it will be."

A. G. Elliott made a short plea for renewed support of the lagging Red Cross drive in Navarro County, and Calhoun briefly discussed the 1948 district convention scheduled for Waco, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Guests included W. H. orwood, J. F. Adams, Jack H. Stroube, T. C. Evans of Waco, Tom Pryor, Doyle West, Junior Rotarians present were John David and Ronald Cavender.

Bulldogs Bow To Aggie Frosh, 12-2 Tuesday P. M.

The Navarro Bulldogs bowed for the second time to a Southwest Conference freshman baseball team Tuesday when they went down before the Texas Aggie Frosh in College Station, 12-2.

Infield errors and the loss of Bill Reed, starting pitcher, hurt the Bulldogs. A total of seven runs in the first three frames put the Aggies out in front, and they were never headed.

Alton Frost, starting shortstop for Navarro, sustained a twisted knee in a slide into second base early in the game, and is due for further examination tomorrow to determine if he will be able to play Friday night in the Bulldogs clash with the SMU frosh.

Jack Hodges pitched the first five frames for the Bulldogs, and was replaced by Lloyd Longino in the sixth.

Wayne Watkins was the leading hitter for Navarro, homering in the 4th to drive Charlie Smith in. He also collected a single later on. Lester Lackey for the Aggies gave the best batting performance, getting five hits in six trips to the plate.

"Our hitting was good," Coach Akridge said Wednesday morning, "but here were just too many mistakes."

Akridge announced the scheduling of a night exhibition game with Baylor University freshmen at Territo Park here on the night of March 30.
